

Gleadell Market Report: Thursday 7th February

Feed Wheat

The UK malting barley “trader short” market seems to have stabilised for now with the recent weakening in currency helping prices. That said, any fresh trade is all but non-existent and the trade shorts are chasing mainly low nitrogen Propino and distilling varieties. All buyers seem to have covered their Planet requirements as this variety had a good quality year and the thh692.692f.000000hh6000003ilabled forspriceoaveap betweogeh the

ek,twhich chn-

ek,twhich chn-

Oats

Yesterday Defra released the BPs Crop areas in England which uses crop hectareage information sourced from Basic Payment Scheme data. This comparison for the 2018/19

